You make a report to Stopline (you can remain anonymous if you wish)

Your report is about an issue that you have experienced or observed in the AFL industry. For example:

- Racism, sexism or any vilification
- Bullying or harassment
- Mental health issues
- Physical health issues including concussion
- Breaches of AFL rules and policies including gambling or illicit drugs

Stopline will record the details of your report and provide it to the AFLPA (only disclosing your identity if you have consented)

The AFLPA legal team (or your nominated AFLPA contact) will receive your report in strict confidence and determine how to best address your issue

The actions to be taken will depend on what your report is about. For example, where appropriate, the AFLPA may make further enquiries into the matter or refer the matter to the AFL or other relevant body following discussions with you

You will be kept regularly informed of the progress of your report and the expected timeframes

Your report is about an issue that is not within the scope of this service. For example:

- Has no connection to the AFL industry
- Is about an AFL rule, restriction or fixture
- Is about an umpiring or AFL Tribunal decision
- Relates to something that has happened to someone who is not an AFLPA member (unless the matter also impacts AFLPA members)

Stopline/AFLPA will try to refer you to the relevant organisation or individual who may be able to assist with your issue
